Work Experiences

August 2012 NanoKorea 2012, COEX convention hall, Seoul

I worked as an assistant for each booth from 9 international companies and organizations (namely Czechinvest, NIPPON PNEUMATIC MFG, and Nordiko Technical Service Limited and among others). My major responsibility was to interpret and translate their business communications from English to Korean and vice versa. From this work, I improved organizational skills and performances in different perspectives and requirements. It helped me to understand a vast range of cultural aspects associated to international business.

December 2010 - September 2011 A part-time job in Japanese shop, Samsi, Manchester

My responsibility is to manage in sales and merchandise control at Japanese food shop.

Activities

October 2012 - Current Volunteering, International Society at University of Manchester

I teach Korean and explain its culture behind of language.
